

Severe Weather Safety Class!

Do you know what to do

When the skies darken?

Lightning increases?

Heavy rain produces flooding?

Outdoor warning sirens sound?

Wind picks up?

Heavy rain produces flooding?

Colorado severe weather season is only weeks away.

This class will discuss Colorado weather and Colorado weather hazards and give suggestions on how to stay safe from tornadoes, flooding, lightning, hail, and damaging winds. There are also volumes of weather information available to you from several sources including the internet and NOAA Weather Radio. You will learn to quickly get access to forecasts, watches, warnings and advisories.

Prepared and informed individuals/families make resilient communities!

Who: Anyone interested in personal safety during severe weather

When: Thursday, April 29, 2010

Where: Brighton Emergency Management
Police Department Training Room
3401 E. Bromley Lane
Brighton, CO 80601

Time: 6:30 pm—8:00 pm

Cost: FREE

Minimum of 15 people are required to conduct the class. Register early as space fills up quickly.

To Register: Please contact Rebecca Martinez at (303) 655-2316 or email her at rmartinez@brightonco.gov or visit www.brightoncert.org website. We will need your name, home address, phone, and email address.

